Very strong S.W. monsoon and fine weath-

The Siamese brig Starlight reports: Left Hongkong on the 6th August, and had S.W. and Westerly winds and equally weather until the 1st September. We were then in lat. 11° N. and long. 118° 58' E. At 9.30 a.m. on that day experienced a very heavy squall from the westward.

Hands employed shortening sail when the squall struck us. Vessel heeled over to starboard and at the same moment the foremast, mainmast and jibboom were carried clean over the side. Out away the wreckage as fast as possible, squall only lasted about 15 minutes (barometer 29.7); measures were at once taken to rig jib-booms, and the same afternoon shaped our course for Hongkong, and had moderate S.W. winds and fine weather to arrival.

THE CHINA MAIL.

HONGKONG, TUESDAY, SEPT. 11, 1877.

OUR correspondent, "A Resident," directs attention to a matter of considerable interest and importance. We gather from the papers with which he has favoured us that the Colony of Demarara, in British Guiana, is greatly in need of labour for the development of its resources. Hitherto the Colony has drawn its chief supply of labour from India and the Azores, but this supply not being equal to the demand, from various reasons, the Legislature has resolved to encourage Chinese immigration into the country by offering a bounty of $60 per head on every free Chinese coolie arriving in the country. The proceedings of the Legislature on the occasion of the passing of this resolution are reported as follows in the Colonist, a paper published at Georgetown, of June 16th:—

Mr Russell, in moving "that it is expedient to issue a proclamation offering a bounty of $60 per head on Chinese immigrants arriving here, not being under liability of indenture under the existing Immigration laws of the colony," said hon. members were well aware of his sentiments with regard to the introduction of a system of free Chinese immigrants. He would not therefore detain them with any lengthened remarks on the subject, but he did hope this bonus of $60 per head would be the means of opening up communications with China, a country which was swarming with a surplus population, and that many of those people would be induced to come here where their labour was so much wanted. They every day had experience of the great value of the presence of the Chinese here. They were some of the finest labourers in the colony, and it was evident from the progress they were making that they did not neglect their own interests. He looked forward to the day when a stream of these useful labourers would be coming to our shores.

Mr William Craigen seconded the motion.
The Administrator said he should forward the resolution to her Majesty's Government.
At the same time he would ask the official members to abstain from voting, so that it might be said to be the unanimous opinion of the elective members.

The resolution was carried, all the elective members voting for, and the official members abstaining.

It was also resolved at the same meeting to increase the bounty, given to immigrants from the Azores and the Canary Islands, from $25 to $30 per head; and another resolution was agreed to requesting that "such necessary steps be taken as may be approved of by the Secretary of State for more thoroughly testing the practicability of obtaining immigrants from Sierra Leone, British Sherbro, and other English settlements on the West Coast of Africa, and if found practicable to establish and carry on immigration from the colonies named, the said immigrants to be introduced free of indenture."

From a discussion in the House of Lords on the 20th July, it appears the Indian Government is not at the present moment prepared, mainly from political reasons, to offer facilities and encouragements for the emigration of Indian coolies to the British Colonies in the West Indies. Lord Hampden, in moving for papers on the subject, said he hoped that the Secretary of State for India would not relax in his endeavours to persuade the Government of India to encourage and promote the emigration of coolies from that country.

"India had suffered severely in recent years from the scourge of famine, and if from the more crowded parts of that country a well-regulated system of emigration was encouraged to those Colonies where labour was urgently needed, a considerable amount of the misery resulting from those periodical calamities might be averted. Those coolies who had emigrated to the West Indian Colonies in past years had, he believed, no reason to regret the course they had taken. Many of them remained in the colonies as settlers, while others again had, after a certain time, returned to their native country with considerable sums of money, which they had earned, in their possession. There could, therefore, be no doubt that a well-regulated system of coolie emigration would be beneficial both to our colonies and to the people of India." Lord Salisbury, in reply, admitted that two years ago he had addressed a despatch to the Government of India urging them to give greater facilities than had hitherto been given to the emigration of coolies to the West Indies, and only received an answer in May last. This answer he regretted was not favourable. Principally through fear of raising the suspicions of the people, the Government of India did not, as at present advised, desire to adopt the measure that he had suggested for facilitating and encouraging the emigration of some of the surplus population of India. The Earl of Northbrook, in speaking on the subject, observed that "for some years the manner in which the emigration of labourers to British Guiana had been conducted was a model.
The condition of these coolies in most instances when they returned from the Colonies was one of enviable prosperity."

Seeing the unfriendly manner in which Chinese immigrants are now received in the United States and Australia, the question of Chinese immigration to British Guiana and, possibly, the other West Indian Colonies certainly seems worth some consideration at the hands of those whom it may concern. British Guiana comprises an area of no less than 76,000 square miles. The soil is said to be densely covered with vegetation, and produces sugar, cotton, coffee, maize, wheat, cocoa, vanilla, tobacco, and cinnamon. The country is said to be healthy, although Georgetown, the capital, has a questionable name in sanitary matters.

were then in lat. 11 N. and long. 118.58

clean over the side. Cut away the wreckage as fast as possible, squall only lasted about
were taken to rig jury-masts, and the same afternoon shaped our course for
and fine weather to arrival.

THE CHINA MAIL.

has favoured us that the Colony of De-
drawn its chief supply of labour from
not being equal to the demand, from various reasons, the Legislature has resolv-
$60 per head on every free Chinese
proceedings of the Legislature on the occasion of the passing of this resolution
are reported as follows in the Colonist, a
16th:—

Mr. Russell, in moving "that it is expedient
$60 per head on Chinese immigrants arriving
of his sentiments with regard to the intro-
grants. He would not therefore detain them
with any lengthened remarks on the subject,
but he did hope this bonus of $60 per head
would be the means of opening up communi-
ful labourers would be coming to our shores.

Mr. William Craigen seconded the motion.
the resolution to her Majesty's Government.
At the same time he would ask the hon. members to abstain from voting, so that it might be said to be the unanimous opinion of the elective members.

abstaining.

It was also resolved at the same meet-
and Cape de Verde Islands, from $25 to $30 per head; and another resolution was agreed to requesting that "such
more thoroughly testing the practicability
of obtaining immigrants from Sierra Leone, British Sherbro, and other English settlements on the West Coast of Africa, and if found practicable to estab-

THE CHINA REVIEW.

THE widely-expressed regret at the discontinuance of Notes & Queries on China and Japan, has induced the publishers of this journal to issue a publication similar in object and style, but slightly modified in certain details.

THE CHINA REVIEW, or Notes and Queries on the Far East, is issued at intervals of two months, each number containing about 60 octavo pages, occasionally illustrated with lithographs, photographs, woodcuts, &c., should the papers published demand, and the circulation justify, such extra matter.

The subscription is fixed at $5.50 postage paid, per annum, payable by non-residents in Hongkong half-yearly in advance.

The publication includes papers original and selected upon the Arts and Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Manners and Customs, Natural History, Religion, &c., &c., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, the Eastern Archipelago and the "Far East" generally. A more detailed list of subjects upon which contributions are especially invited is incorporated with each number.

Original contributions in Chinese, Latin, French, German, Spanish, Italian or Portuguese, are admissible. Endeavours are made to present a résumé in each number of the contents of the most recent works bearing on Chinese matters. Great attention is also paid to the Review department.

Notes and Replies are classified together as "Notes" (head references being given, when furnished, to the previous Notes or Queries), as are also those queries which, though asking for information, furnish new or unpublished details concerning the matter in hand. It is desirable to make the Queries proper as brief and as much to the point as possible.

The China Review for July and August, 1875, is at hand. It says that forty-two essays were sent in to compete for the best paper on the advantages of Christianity for the development of a State. All our learned societies should subscribe to this scholarly and enterprising Review. It is a sixty paged, bi-monthly, repository of what scholars are ascertaining about China. The lecture on Chinese Poetry in this volume is alone worth the price of the Review. Address China Review, Hongkong—Northern Christian Advocate (U.S.).

Tribune's Oriental Record contains the following notice of the China Review:—"This is the title of a publication, the first number of which has lately reached us from Hongkong, where it has been set on foot as in some respects a continuation of Notes and Queries on China and Japan, the extinction of which we much regretted in Europe as well as in China. The present publication, judging by the number of letters we have received to convey a notice, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, somewhat similar to that which has been filed in India by the Calcutta Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirable; and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked for from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Customs' corps, and the missionary body, among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now assiduously cultivated, and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors. In a paper on Dr. Legge's Shu King, by the Rev. E. J. Eitel, to which the place of honour is deservedly given, an excellent summary is presented of the chronological problems and arguments involved in connection with this important work. Some translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and freshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese poet-statesman of the eleventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. O. Bowra, is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a useful feature of the Review, if carried out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice that "Notes" and "Queries" are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar degree of literary zeal to that which was displayed during the lifetime of its predecessor in the field, and that the China Review may receive the support necessary to insure its continuance. The publication is intended to appear every two months, and will form a substantial octavo magazine.

THE CHINESE MAIL.

This paper is now issued every day. The subscription is fixed at Four Dollars per annum delivered in Hongkong, or Seven Dollars Fifty Cents including postage to Coast ports.

It is the first Chinese Newspaper ever issued under purely native direction. The editorial department is conducted by Mr. CHUN AYIN, whose experience and competence have already been most fully demonstrated. The chief support of the paper is of course derived from the native community, amongst whom also are to be found the guarantors and securities necessary to place it on a business and legal footing.

The projectors, basing their estimates upon the most reliable information from the various Ports in China and Japan, from Australia, California, Singapore, Penang, Saigon, and other places frequented by the Chinese, consider themselves justified in guaranteeing an ultimate circulation of between 8,000 and 4,000 copies. The advantages offered to advertisers are therefore unusually great, and the foreign community generally will find it to their interest to avail themselves of them.

The field open to a paper of this description—conducted by native efforts, but progressive and anti-obstinate in tone—in almost limitless. It is on the one hand commands Chinese belief and interest while on the other it deserves every aid that can be given to it by foreigners. Like English journals it contains Editorials, with Local, Shipping, and Commercial News and Advertisements.

Subscription orders for either of the above may be sent to
